ABOUT US

Linden New Art, established in 1986, is a public gallery located in the Melbourne suburb of St Kilda. Our vision is to be a leading mid-size contemporary art space. Our mission is to be a conversation-driven organisation championing bold new ideas. With a focus on mid-career artists. we pursue inclusive, thoughtprovoking programs, creating new experiences & engagement through contemporary art. We embrace different ways of experiencing and seeing the world and oneself, and provide opportunities to learn, debate and explore through contemporary art.

Our core activity is defined by three aspects: exhibitions, public and education programs, and knowledge generation. Exhibitions are uniquely focussed on supporting midcareer artists and consist of solo exhibitions, often of new work, and thematic exhibition, which engage with the big issues of our time. Exhibitions are supported by multifaceted public and educational programs, and the generation of online essays and exhibitions publications, targeted towards diverse audiences.

CHAIRPERSON'S REPORT

I am pleased to present this report for 2023, my last as Chairperson. It has been an honour and a pleasure to serve with such a committed and expert Board.

In 2023 we paid a fond farewell to board members Biheng Zhang, Owen Craven and Deputy Mayor Louise Crawford, and welcomed new board members Dr Meena Thuraisingham, David Hagger and Councillor Tim Baxter.

This was the first full year under the leadership of our new CEO and Director Dr Vincent Alessi, which has seen Linden achieve success with a full program of high-quality Main Gallery exhibitions, and an exciting and impactful series of Linden Projects shows. It has been a year of exciting curatorial innovation, along with broadened community impact through engaging programming and events.

A highlight in 2023 was the refresh of the long-running and much-loved Linden Postcard Show, which saw an opening up to different formats, including 3D works, new modes of outreach through community engagement including with the Yirrkala Bilingual School in North East Arnhem Land, and a stunning new approach to hanging the works that perfectly showcased the Linden gallery spaces.

A major achievement this year was the launch of the JUNCTURE Art Prize, designed to support two mid-career artists to develop brave new work. This year the prizes were awarded to two outstanding mid-career artists Shivanjani Lal and Vittoria Di Stefano. Their beautiful solo exhibitions will open on 1 June 2024.

To align with the Linden New Art strategy as developed by the Director and Board, a staff restructure was implemented, which saw Liam James appointed as Deputy Director and other positions aligned with the future direction of the organisation.

On behalf of the Board, thanks to our excellent Linden team and volunteers, our wonderful donors, the City of Port Phillip and our many corporate partners.

My thanks to the Linden Board for their untiring contributions. I am very proud of all Linden's achievements and excited about the future.

Paul Duldig Chairperson May 2024

DIRECTOR'S REPORT

After years of interruptions due to the pandemic and associated city lockdowns, and the departure of Linden's long-standing Director, Melinda Martin in mid 2022, 2023 was a year of stability for the organisation. It was also my first full year as Director + CEO, a period where I have had the opportunity to learn more about the institution and plan our future direction across all facets of the business. This has included implementing curatorial changes to our programming, which will be fully realised in the years ahead, and more expansive public programming, aimed at multiple audiences.

The year began with the continuation of the popular Linden Postcard Show, (opened in December 2022) which was partnered with Michael Kluge's moving exhibition Left Behind. A past Postcard Show winner, Kluge's quiet exhibition, ruminated on memory through the lens of grief. A counterpoint to the relaxed and joyful nature of the Postcard Show, it highlighted the breadth of interest and subjects that have defined the yearly Postcard exhibition.

The exhibition programming continued its focus on presenting the work of mid-career artist. Three concurrent exhibitions – Nell: Old New Wave, Kate Just: Self Care Action Series, and Abdul-Rahman Abdullah: Journeys – opened the year's programming. This was followed by the first institutional exhibition of Tiwi artist, Johnathon World Peace Bush. The exhibition, Everything that came before makes the present, signalled the direction of Linden's renewed curatorial model. It was the first building-wide solo exhibition in well over a decade and included the first of Linden's publications; an exhibition catalogue consisting of multiple essays and images of individual works and the unique exhibition installation. This building-wide approach and the publication of catalogues will become the core of our future programming, allowing for deeper engagement with the work of a single artist or curatorial theme.

2023 saw the presentation of the second in situ Design Fringe exhibition, titled, Speculation: Eight Billion Little Utopias. The exhibition, showcased across all of Linden's main gallery spaces, invited Australian designers to reimagine our societies, communities, politics and ideals, to be catalysts for conversations on alternative visions through the breadth of design practice. The curatorial provocation engaged with the contemporary idea of speculative design, locating the exhibition in current debates on throw-away consumption logics, climate change and the pressure of modern-day lifestyles.

In 2023, the Linden Projects Space continued to grow in reputation. Over 40 applications, from across the country, were received for 9 exhibition opportunities, indicating the space's growing reputation. The final program included a diversity of practice approaches, with a focus on experimentation and engagement with important social and cultural debates. The success of the Projects Space is also demonstrated in the dramatic rise in visitation, with a 30% increase from the previous year.

After a successful fundraising campaign in 2022, Linden launched its new art prize for mid-career artists. JUNCTURE is a uniquely targeted prize and supports two artists with a $20,000 cash prize and an exhibition of new work at Linden in 2024. The use of the prize money is determined by the artist to assist the development and furthering of their artistic practice. It can be used for travel, research, production, or any other aspect which allows artists to explore new approaches in their work, realise ambitious projects and test new ideas. The inaugural winners were Shivanjani Lal and Vittoria Di Stefani, who will both present solo exhibitions at Linden beginning in June 2024.

Part of our strategy is to ensure that we are vital and relevant to our communities. A key aspect in achieving this is our public programming. It needs to be engaging, educational, diverse and open. In 2023 we introduced several new programs and built on existing ones to meet this ambition. We launched our first multi-week Summer program, delivered in partnership with our beverage partner, The Gospel Whisky, and with support from a City of Port Phillip Love My Place grant. Over five Sundays we opened our gardens up for people to enjoy live music and bespoke whiskey cocktails. It was pleasing to have many of neighbours engaging with Linden in this way, a vital step in ensuring that they see Linden as their gallery. We built on our equity and access programs, delivering tailored programs for families, teenagers, and adults with the mental health concerns. For many of the participants it was their first engagement with Linden and a contemporary art space. We look forward to building on this, for those who may not visit a gallery without these opportunities. We also introduced exhibition-long family activities for every exhibition. This is a key aspect of engaging audiences for longer, creating a space for making, learning and sharing ideas, and developing a sense of community.

Due to the great work achieved by Linden's Executive and Board in the proceeding years, the institution remained strongly positioned, financially and reputationally, to begin its next journey of growth and evolution. Linden is ideally placed to become bolder in its programming, challenging curatorial and public program models, as it embarks on its mission to be recognised as a leading mid-size contemporary art space on a national scale.

This ambition and approach can only be achieved through the support of sponsors and donors, and matched by our multi-year funders. We thank our core funder, the City of Port Phillip, whose long-term commitment to Linden provides the foundation to do what we do and to continue to succeed and prosper. This is supported by The Victorian Government through Creative Victoria whose multi-year funding is integral to our sustainability, and makes it possible for us to be ambitious and engaged at all levels with our communities. Their support and advice have been integral, and I look forward to our continued relationship and partnership as we strive to make art available and accessible to the broadest audience.

We remain always grateful to the ongoing support of our Donors, Linden Contemporary members, and Philanthropic Trusts and Foundations, whose support throughout the year has enabled us to realise new ideas and projects, expand our exhibition outcomes, and to also maintain key elements of what we have been doing so successfully for many years.

Linden has a committed and engaged team who ensures that we deliver exciting exhibitions and programs. My thanks to the entire team for their ongoing hard work and dedication, and for buying in to our expanded vision and future direction. My thanks to the Linden Board who continue to provide the organisation and myself with incredible support and guidance.

After a full year as Director, I am now even more excited about the possibilities of what lies ahead. Linden has an amazing history of being a vital institution in Melbourne for almost 40 years. It is a privilege to lead it on the course we have set in the short, mid and long term. We are well-placed and ready to be known for our risk-taking, innovation and experimentation, supporting artists and bringing our audiences on the journey of engaging with and learning about Australian contemporary art.

LEONIE LEIVENZON Unremembered Histories

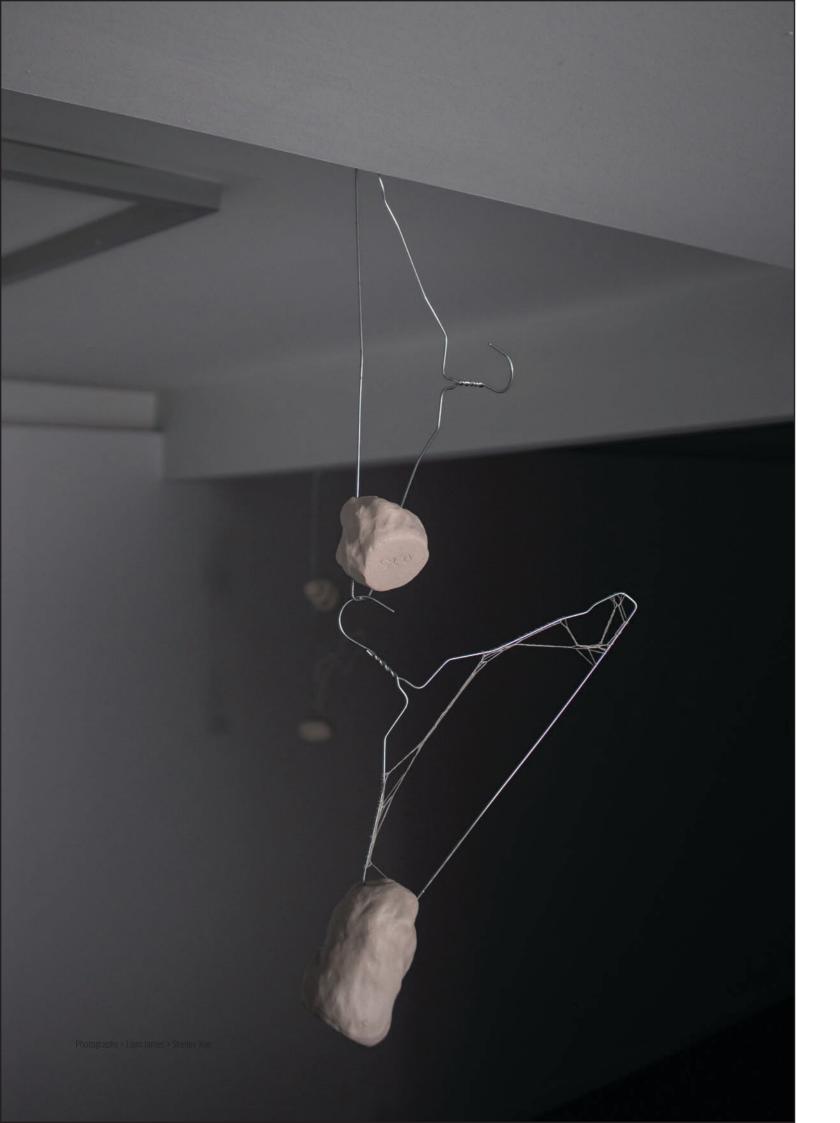

12.01.23 > 12.02.23

Unremembered Histories by Leonie Leivenzon, whose practice involves collecting abandoned imagery such as VHS tapes, slides, and photographic prints, and merging them with household objects and other familiar forms posed questions about the nature of photographs and memory. Removed from their original context and transformed into furnishings within an installation environment, Leivenzon's creative process of gathering, manipulating and recycling lost pictures breathed new life and meaning into the images, each representing a moment rescued from the amnesia of time's relentless advance.

SYDELLE MULLEN My Womb: A Public Space

16.02.23 > 19.03.23

Sydelle Mullen's exhibition My Womb: A Public Space, transformed Linden Projects Space into a symbolic recreation of a womb-like environment, complete with biomorphic eggs punctured by coat hangers, cobweb-like crochet draped throughout the space, illuminated by a video of internal bodily footage recorded using a specialist medical camera. The work was both comforting and confronting, which engaged with social issues around gender, reproductive rights, and the politics of the body.

Sydelle Mullen was the 2022 winner of Linden New Art Helpmann Academy Prize, awarded to a recent South Australian graduate.

NELL OLD NEW WAVE

18.03.23 > 14.06.23

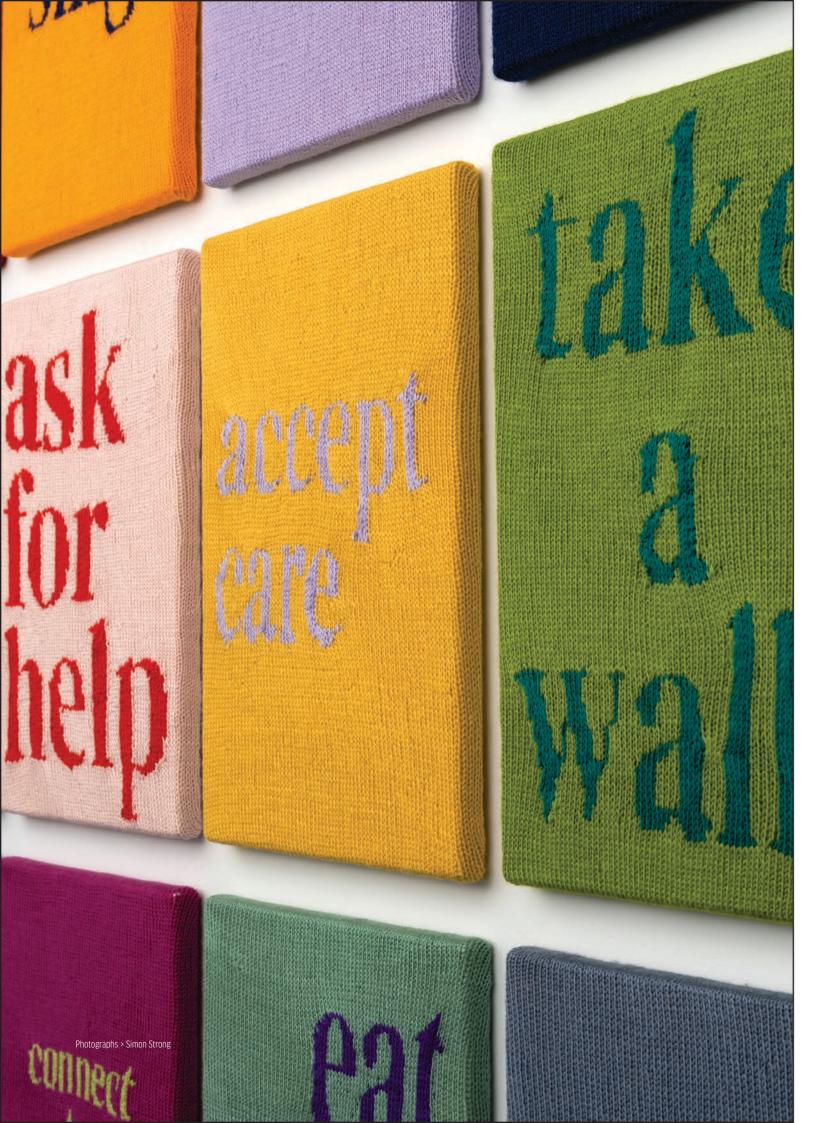

Nell's artistic practice is multifaceted and interdisciplinary, spanning across painting, sculpture, performance, installation, video, wearables, collaborations, community projects and public art. Underpinning all her work is an exploration of the thresholds of binary opposites such as the ancient and contemporary, individual and communal, feminine and masculine, and sacred and profane. From an Australian vantage point, she uses the language of art history, popular music and spiritual traditions to amplify the tensions and differences between these binary positions to create new objects and rituals.

Old New Wave was an exhibition at both the edge and the centre. Utilising a range of sculptural mediums, Nell prompted the audience to consider the nuanced and difficult places where binaries careen, overlap and interfold. The work was firmly framed within St. Kilda's physical past, specifically the 80's punk scene, and its physical landscape, specifically the ocean and its waves. Both aspects lap together tumbling amongst the questioning greys creating a new and old place for reflection and action.

KATE JUST Self Care Action Series

18.03.23 > 14.06.23

Kate Just is an American born, Australian feminist artist best known for her inventive and political use of knitting. Through the deployment of traditional craft forms, such as knitting and sewing, Just questions histories of female and queer representation through the lens of subjective experience. Always autobiographical, her solo work and socially engaged collaborative projects explore ideas of feminist conceptions of the body, memories of gender and family, and the power of craft to elicit social change.

In this new body of work, Self Care Action Series, forty brightly coloured, hand-knitted panels beared text relating to self-care actions. The series arose from the artist's lived experience as a queer woman, an artist, a teacher, advocate, activist, and parent who dedicates a lot of time working in artworld and real-world contexts to generate social and politic change. In response to a build-up of exhaustion and frustration, Just began to formulate texts/actions for herself – to sustain and care for oneself – in difficult times. Though initially made to consider how artists and activists can build emotional resilience to be able to continue doing the work they do, the series was further shaped and informed by personal struggle and grief, including the death of Just's dearly loved father.

The series was one of positivity and hope, each a simple prompt that Just considers crucial for her own emotional survival and resilience and an invitation to others to imagine how they might prioritise caring for themselves.

ABDUL-RAHMAN ABDULLAH Journeys

18.03.23 > 14.06.23

Abdul-Rahman Abdullah works primarily in sculpture and installation. His work explores the intersections of identity, culture and the natural world and reflects on his multi-cultural identity, personal history and Islamic faith.

In this exhibition, Abdullah presented a suite of three works ruminating on passages of life, each offering a glimpse of the magical in the everyday. Beautifully and realistically carved, these sculptures were beautiful and calming, inviting closer observation. A camel, tethered to a perfect circle of rope, sat serenely waiting for our approach. A winged horse, reposed on a bed of white rose petals, looked over its shoulder, calmly expecting our advance. A coiled black snake raised its head towards a chandelier, accepting of our shared interest.

Each work, skilfully sculpted, was conceptually informed by an Islamic Hadith, a statement attributed to the Prophet Muhammad (PBUH), which serve as a source of guidance for Muslims in their daily lives. Abdullah is attracted to these hadiths due to their often-cryptic nature, openness to interpretation and their function in helping to make sense of the world in which we live. They are ideal for the artist to illustrate many of the ideas which inform his work, including the acceptance that belief and truth are not always the same thing and that such tension keeps us questioning.

The Escape was curated by Anna García Solana and featured the creative practices of ten artists from Australia and Europe, whose work, whilst diverse in attitude and form, shares the symbolic subject of the fire escape. Drawing upon each artist's unique interpretative response to the theme, The Escape harnessed the transformative process of meaning-making through the language of art.

SARAH TRACTON Sound is Illuminated

04.05.23 > 28.05.23

Sound is Illuminated was the latest body of handcrafted porcelain lightworks by local artist and designer Sarah Tracton. Floating weightlessly throughout the space, the gentle glow of Tracton's pendant lights distilled the velvety warmth of dusk, disrupting the cool container of the gallery's white cube. Closer inspection revealed gilded fissures that shatter the porcelain into mosaics of organic shapes, its form the beautiful result of an artful Japanese technique employed by Tracton known as kintsugi. The pendants were powered and suspended by minimalistic frame structures of near-invisible slimline wires, thus eliminating visible cables and creating a mysterious buoyancy.

JOHNATHON WORLD PEACE BUSH

Everything that came before makes the present 17.06.23 > 10.09.23

Everything that came before makes the present was the first institutional solo exhibition by Tiwi artist Johnathon World Peace Bush. Bringing together fifteen major works, the exhibition explored Bush's interest in global politics, family, and cultural heritage through the lens of three key themes, Religion, Colonial Crimes and Indigenous Culture.

Bush's works are defined by his layering of figurative elements, often sourced from Western art history, religious iconography and images of political figureheads, over cultural mark-making that reflects Jilamara, Tiwi body paint designs. This unique amalgamation of imagery addresses the impacts of colonialism and the missionaries on Tiwi culture and Bush's connection to community, and acknowledgement of the diverse cultural influences that shape his life and that of his community.

MATERIAL REMAINS

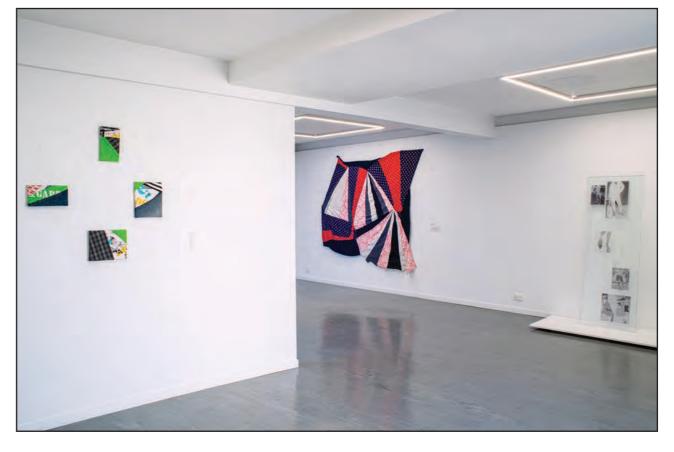

Curated by Mia Palmer-Verevis, Izzy Baker and Freddie Wright

06.07.23 > 06.08.23

Material Remains was a curated exhibition featuring the work of five local artists - Shannon Slee, Isabella Darcy, Rebecca Diele, Casey Jeffery and Madeleine Joy Dawes - alongside two works from the City of Port Phillip, one by Martin Kantor and one by Sarah crowEST. It explored the socio-historical, archival and formal threads of fabric. It opened with Martin Kantor's 1986 photograph of the Victorian Tapestry Workshop and ended with three works that look like fabric, but were in fact drawings, paintings and stitched paper. In moving from local history to total abstraction, the slipperiness of fabric emerged: it is embedded in community; a carrier of identity and memory; and substrate that in art, eludes capture.

LUCINDA STRAHAN

a rather gross materialism / completed her relapse into irritability / The Webbs' Australian Diary 1898: cut and erased

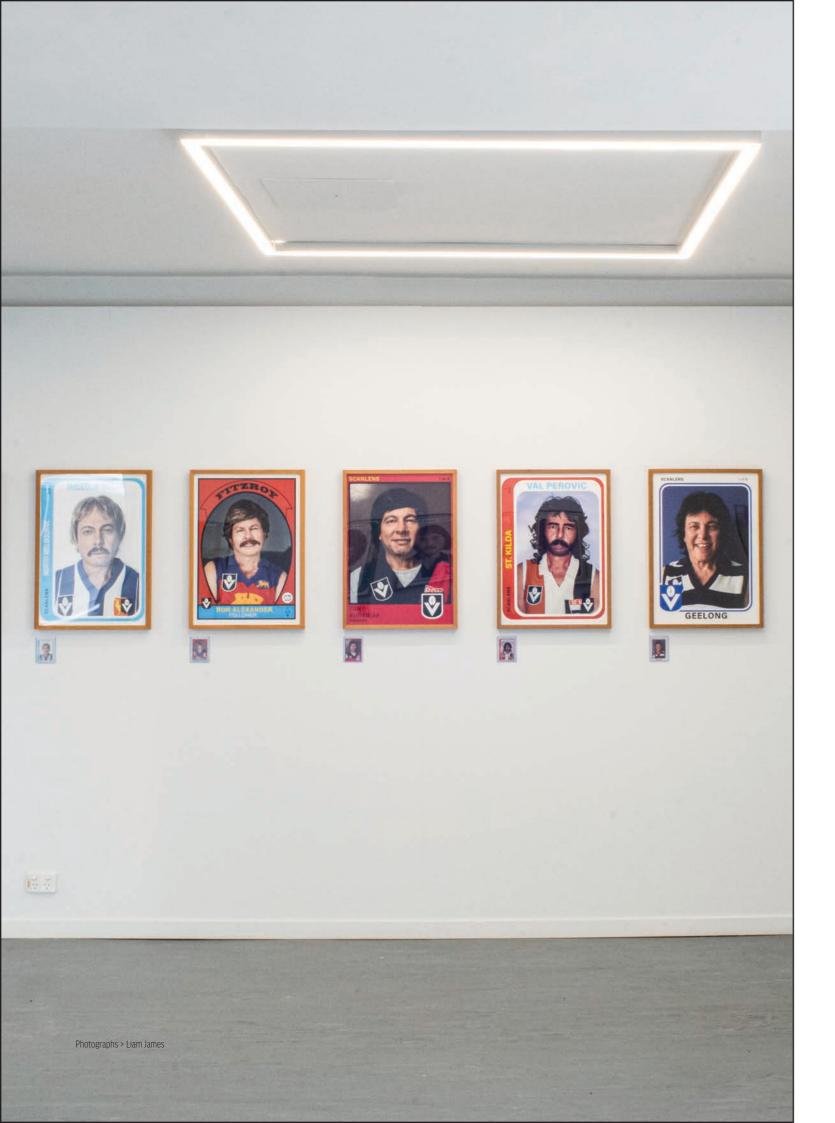

10.08.23 > 10.08.23

In a rather gross materialism / completed her relapse into irritability / The Webbs' Australian Diary 1898: cut and erased, writer and researcher Lucinda Strahan presented a suite of posters, each a collage pairing image and text extracted from the colonial record The Webbs' Australian Diary 1898.

For Strahan, the Webb's Diary, which draws upon the colonial legacy of local histories, provides a container to come to terms with her position and experience as a 'well-to-do' settler Australian woman. Through the playful process of what she calls "poetic erasure", Strahan reinterpreted the source text through a series of cunning redactions that remake, reimagine and subvert the subjectivities and cultural narratives of the Webb's Diary.

GRAHAM MILLER Playing the Man

14.09.23> 15.10.23

Childhood memories are the trigger for Graham Miller's series Playing the Man. The playful and humorous images are a celebration of football and a wistful look at the past. Referencing bubble gum footy cards from the 1970's and 80's, and press images, including Rennie Ellis's iconic image of Robbie McGhie, Miller recreates himself as boyhood football heroes to explore issues of masculinity, identity, and cultural difference.

DESIGN FRINGE Speculation: Eight Billion Little Utopias

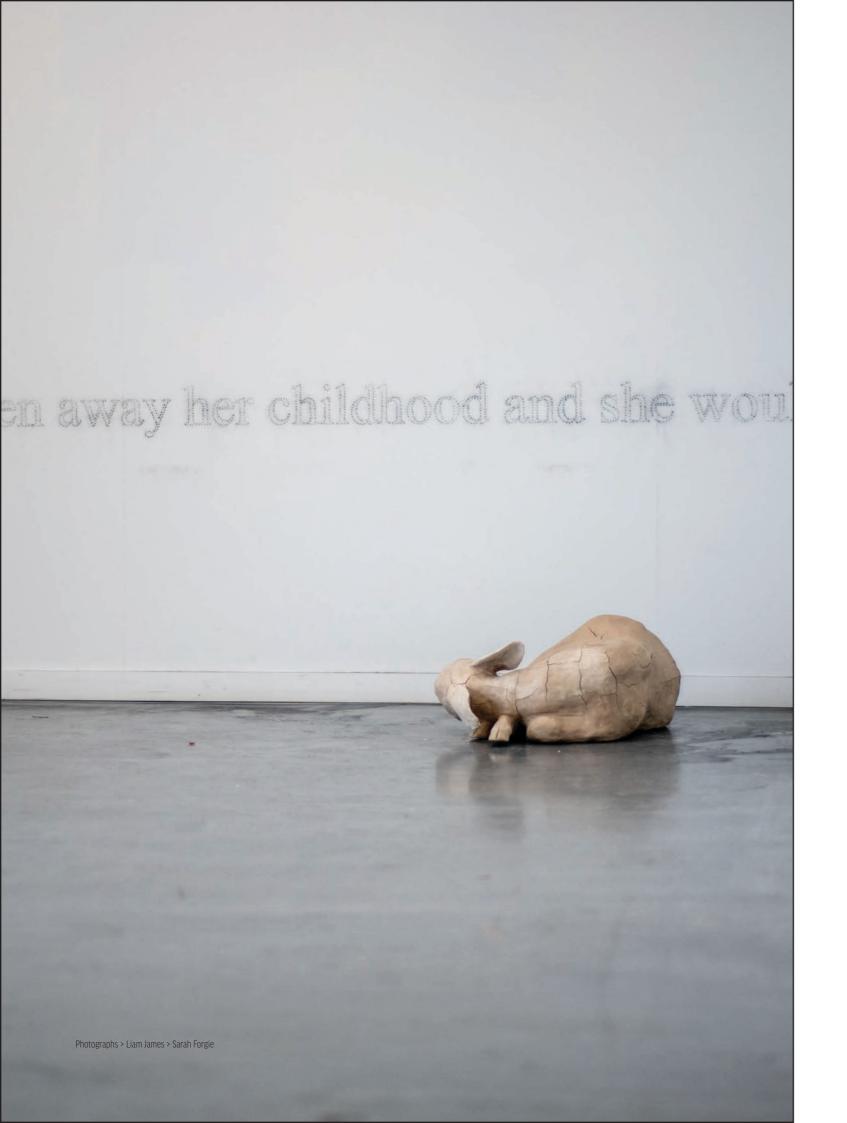

23.09.23 > 26.11.23

The 2023 Design Fringe provocation invited Australian designers to reimagine our societies, communities, politics and ideals, to be catalysts for conversations on alternative visions through the breadth of design practice. The exhibition brought together works that were speculative in its fullest interpretation: through materials, methodologies, approaches, and an understanding of what constitutes design and how it can be a source of vision. Works were poetic, critical and progressive, engaging with the big issues of our time, critiquing and encouraging conversations and inspired visitors to imagine new utopias.

Speculation: Eight Billion Little Utopias didn't provide answers but rather raised questions. It didn't seek singularity but instead multiplicity. It was not only about the viable but rather the unimaginable possible. It didn't define the future, it helped imagine alternatives. It did not pose to be a solution, not a "better way", just another way, a catalyst for social dreaming.

CHARLOTTE WATSON Moral Stranger

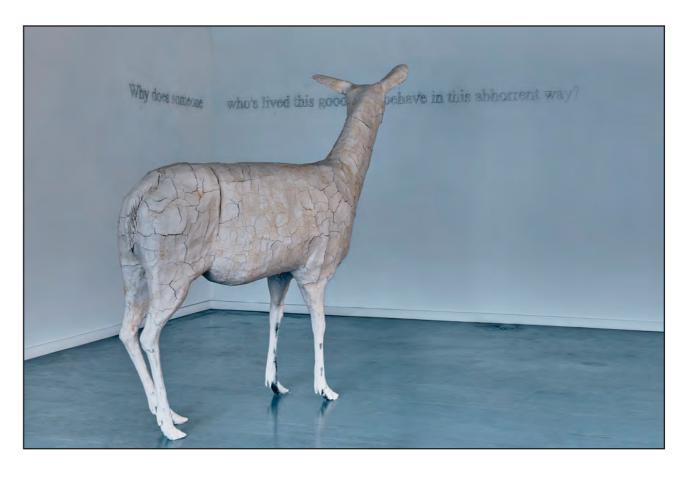

19.10.23 > 19.11.23

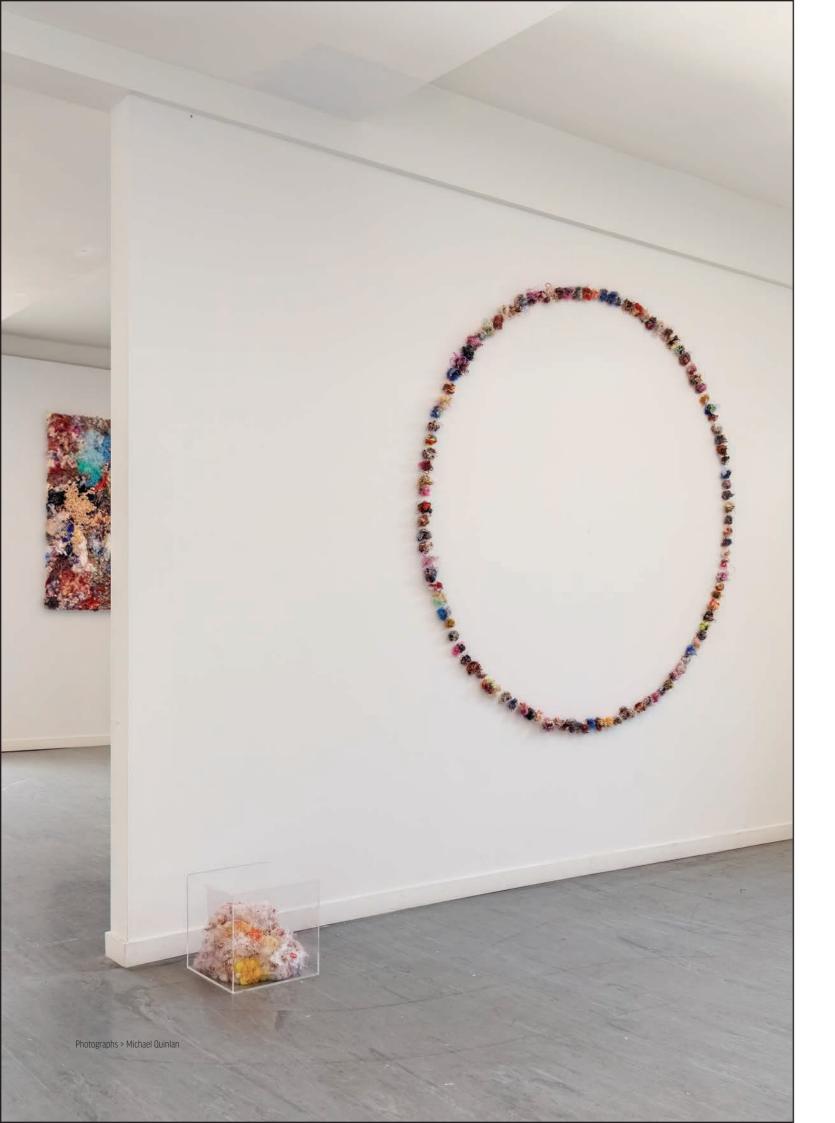

For Moral Stranger, Charlotte Watson created an installation that explored the complexities around crime. Drawing from a theoretical term used for offenders, Moral Stranger pitted individual morals against social ethics, exposing the grey area that surfaces when choices are made at the expense of another.

Moral Stranger was a temporal piece, drawing from both the public and personal. Surrounded by remarks made by lawyers and reporters, life-size deer formed from unfired clay cracked as the story of a hunt unfolded. The deer quietly decayed over time, portraying the fragmentation and disintegration that happens after truths are revealed.

Growing up in southern Aotearoa, Watson explores Pākeha cultural norms. In its attempt to answer the inevitable 'why' left behind after a crime, Moral Stranger pointed us toward the hierarchy of (in)justice. Ambiguous yet piercing, the exhibition left the audience to question who is heard, and who is spoken for.

ELISE CAKEBREAD Gathering Dust

23.11.23 > 23.12.23

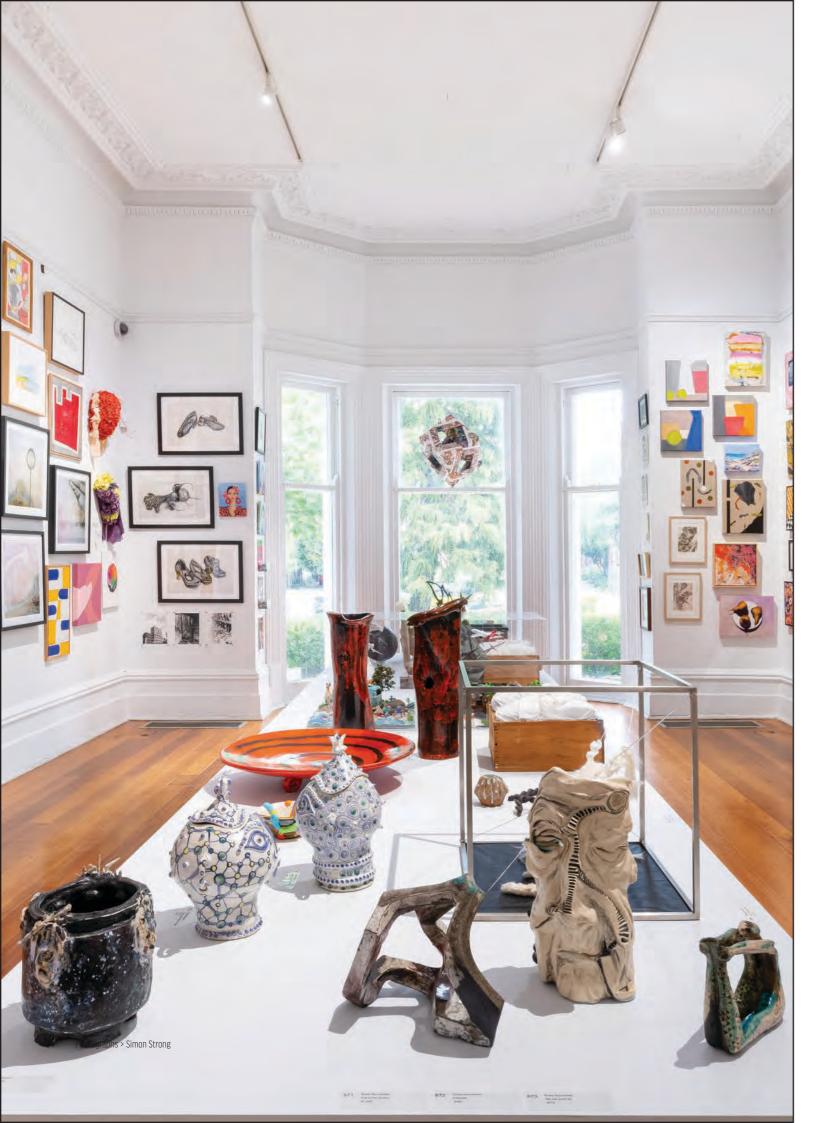

Elise Cakebread is a textile-based artist, craftsperson, and designer whose practice explores materiality, tactility, sustainability, and the ornamental through experiments with traditional textile processes, giving life to work that spans sculpture, installation, and decoration.

Colloquially, to be gathering dust means to remain unused, left behind, untouched for a long period of time. Gathering dust implies an inertia, a dormancy, typically within the domestic household. Taken literally, it suggests a foreboding force, gaining momentum, reminiscent of those ominous dust storms that have become increasingly frequent in desert regions as the climate emergency escalates. Cakebread's exhibition ruminated on these ideas, exploring the fragility of beings, the passing of time, disillusionment, disappointment, and death. Ultimately, dust reminds us of the humble nothingness from which we were once formed and inevitably will return to.

FOYER EXHIBITION PROGRAM CALEB SHEA

10.12.23 > 11.02.24

Since the beginning of his career, Caleb Shea has been compelled to respond to the scale and presence of the human form, choosing to work within parameters that are relatable to the human body. Exercising this to its threshold, the works presented at Linden, Untitled (Butter Yellow) and Untitled (Chocolate Black) take court at the precipice of these limitations, where fuller forms introduce a new monumentality and presence in relation to the human figure. They are the artist's most ambitious and monumental works to date and best represent his practice and current direction.

The Foyer Exhibition Program continues Linden's commitment to exhibit the best of contemporary art by leading Australian artists The program will convert the foyer into an additional exhibition gallery, transformed periodically by works that engage with the space and architecture.

COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT REPORT

In 2023, Linden New Art had an exhilarating year, marked by significant strides in our public program initiatives. This year was marked by an increased focus on community outreach, the strengthening of partnerships with like-minded organisations, and the introduction of new, engaging, and educational program series.

We ventured into an ambitious restructuring of our public programs, launching Linden Creates, Linden Plays, and Linden Learns. These initiatives encompassed a series of masterclasses and term-long programs in drawing and photography, kids and family-oriented workshops, and a series of exhibition-related lectures and talks, respectively.

Among the exciting new additions to our annual roster of events were Gospel Sundays and Brave Young Artists > Holiday Program. The holiday program, in particular, underscored our commitment to developing free, accessible, and engaging programs for children, receiving heartwarming feedback from parents and carers.

2023 also saw the introduction of exhibition-long activities inspired by our current exhibitions. These activities offered a creative outlet for every visitor, inviting them to reflect and engage with the art in a personal and meaningful way.

Our ongoing cooperation with like-minded organisations like ArtsBus, Melbourne Fringe, and Better Health Network continued and resulted in delivering a diverse array of public programs and events that catered to various communities. The year 2023 was a tapestry of exciting, thought-provoking, and engaging events and public programs. We are immensely proud of our achievements and the strides we have made in bringing art and culture closer to our community. This journey would not have been possible without the unwavering dedication and commitment of our staff, partners, and supporters.

Special thanks are due to our generous sponsors: the Elwood Community Bank, Gospel Whiskey, Palais Theatre, and the Robert Salzer Foundation. Their support has been pivotal in allowing us to offer such a diverse range of engagement activities.

As we look back on a year filled with success and forward to continuing our mission, we are filled with gratitude and excitement. The enthusiasm and dedication of everyone involved with Linden New Art has been the cornerstone of our success, and we eagerly anticipate building on this foundation in the years to come.

1 Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

The financial statements cover Linden New Art Incorporated as an individual entity, incorporated and domiciled in Australia.

The financial statements were authorised for issue on the date of the Statement by the Members of the Committee.

This financial report is a special purpose financial report prepared in order to satisfy the financial reporting requirements of the Australian Charittes and Not-for-profits Commission Act 2012 and the Associations Incorporation Reform Act 2012 (Vic). The association is a not-for-profit entity for financial reporting purposes under Australian Accounting Standards.

The Committee have prepared the financial statements on the basis that the association is a non-reporting entity because there are no users dependent on general purpose financial statements. The financial statements are therefore special purpose financial statements that have been prepared in order to meet the needs of the member.

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the mandatory Australian Accounting Standards applicable to entities reporting under the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission Act 2012, the basis of accounting specified by all Australian Accounting Standards and Interpretations, and the disclosure requirements of Accounting Standards AASB 101: Presentation of Financial Statements, AASB 107: Cash Flow Statements, AASB 108: Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors, AASB 1031: Materiality, AASB 1054: Australian Additional Disclosures, and AASB124: Related Party Disclosures.

The financial statements, except for the cash flow information, have been prepared on an accrual basis and are based on historical costs unless stated otherwise in the notes. The amounts presented in the financial statements have been rounded to the nearest dollar. The association has concluded that the requirements set out in AASB 10 and AASB 128 are not applicable as the initial assessment on its interests in other entities indicated that it does not have any subsidiaries, associates or joint ventures. Hence, the financial statements comply with all the recognition and measurement requirements in Australian Accounting Standards.

The following significant accounting policies, which are consistent with the previous period unless stated otherwise, have been adopted in the preparation of these financial statements.

The financial statements have been prepared on an accruals basis and are based on historical costs unless stated otherwise in the notes.

(a) Income Tax

The association is exempt from income tax expense under provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act.

(b) Property, Plant and Equipment

All property, plant and equipment are initially measured at cost and are depreciated over their useful lives to the Association.

The carrying amount of plant and equipment is reviewed annually by the association to ensure it is not in excess of the recoverable amount. The recoverable amount is assessed on the basis of expected net cash flows that will be received from the asset's employment and subsequent disposal. The expected net cash flows have been discounted to present values in determining recoverable amounts.

In the event the carrying amount of plant and equipment is greater than the recoverable amount, the carrying amount is written down immediately to the estimated recoverable amount. A formal assessment of recoverable amount is made when impairment indicators are present (refer to Note 1(d) for details of impairment).

Plant and equipment that have been contributed at no cost, or for nominal cost, are recognised at the fair value of the asset at the date it is acquired.

The depreciable amount of all fixed assets is generally depreciated on a diminishing value basis over the asset's useful life to the association commencing from the time the asset is held ready for use

The assets' residual values and useful lives are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at the end of each reporting

An asset's carrying amount is written down immediately to its recoverable amount if the asset's carrying amount is greater than its estimated recoverable amount

Gains and losses on disposals are determined by comparing proceeds with the carrying amount. These gains or losses are recognised immediately in profit or loss in the period in which they arise. When revalued assets are sold, amounts included in the revaluation surplus relating to that asset are transferred to retained

(c) Leases (the association as lessee)

The association adopted AASB 16. Leases retrospectively with the cumulative effect of initially applying AASB 16 recognised at 1 January 2019. In accordance with AASB 16, comparatives were not restated. The association has recognised a lease liability and right-of-use asset for all leases (with the exception of shortterm and low-value leases), where the association is the lessee.

At inception of a contract, the association assesses if the contract contains or is a lease under AASB 16: Leases. Where a lease exists, a right-of-use asset and a corresponding lease liability are recognised by the association where the association is a lessee. However, all contracts that are classified as short-term leases (ie lease with remaining lease term of 12 months or less) and leases of low value assets will be recognised as an operating expense on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease.

Initially, the lease liability is measured at the present value of the lease payments still to be paid at commencement date. The lease payments are discounted at the interest rate implicit in the lease. If this rate cannot be readily determined, the association uses the incremental borrowing rate.

The right-of-use assets comprise the initial measurement of the corresponding lease liability as mentioned above, any lease payments made at or before the commencement day as well as any initial direct costs. The subsequent measurement of the right-of-use assets is at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses.

Right-of-use assets are depreciated over the lease term or useful life of the underlying asset whichever is the shortest

Where a lease transfers ownership of the underlying asset or the cost of the right-of-use asset reflects that the association anticipates to exercise a purchase option, the specific asset is depreciated over the useful life of the underlying asset.

At the balance date, the association had one lease in place that was considered low value. This lease has not been accounted for under AASR 16.

The association is not party to any leases as a lessor. Arrangements in place are short-term (generally monthly) and would therefore not be considered a lease under AASB 16.

(d) Financial Instruments

Initial recognition and measurement

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised when the association becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. For financial assets, this is equivalent to the date that the association commits itself to either purchase or sell the asset (ie trade date accounting is adopted). Financial instruments are initially measured at fair value plus transaction costs.

Classification and subsequent measurement

Financial liabilities

The association's financial liabilities are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

Financial assets

Financial assets are measured at amortised cost;

Measurement is on the basis of two primary criteria:

- the contractual cash flow characteristics of the financial asset, and
- the business model for managing the financial assets.

A financial asset that meets the following conditions is subsequently measured at amortised cost - the financial asset is managed solely to collect contractual cash flows; and

- the contractual terms within the financial asset give rise to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding on specified dates.

The association's financial assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest

Derecognition refers to the removal of a previously recognised financial asset or financial liability from the statement of financial position

Derecognition of financial liabilities

A liability is derecognised when it is extinguished (ie when the obligation in the contract is discharged, cancelled or expires). An exchange of an existing financial liability for a new one with substantially modified terms, or a substantial modification to the terms of a financial liability, is treated as an extinguishment of the existing liability and recognition of a new financial liability.

The difference between the carrying amount of the financial liability derecognised and the consideration paid and payable, including any non-cash assets transferred or liabilities assumed, is recognised in profit or

Derecognition of financial assets

A financial asset is derecognised when the holder's contractual rights to its cash flows expires, or the asset is transferred in such a way that all the risks and rewards of ownership are substantially transferred.

All the following criteria need to be satisfied for the derecognition of a financial asset.

- the right to receive cash flows from the asset has expired or been transferred;
- all risk and rewards of ownership of the asset have been substantially transferred, and
- the association no longer controls the asset (i.e. it has no practical ability to make unilateral decisions to sell the asset to a third party).

On derecognition of a financial asset measured at amortised cost, the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the sume of the consideration received and receivable is recognised in profit or loss.

Impairment

The association recognises a loss allowance for expected credit losses on financial assets that are Expected credit losses are the probability-weighted estimate of credit losses over the expected life of a financial instrument. A credit loss is the difference between all contractual cash fows that are due and all cash flows expected to be received, all discounted at the original effective interest rate of the financial instrument

At each reporting date, the association recognises the movement in the loss allowance as an impairment gain or loss in the statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income

(e) Impairment of assets

At the end of each reporting period, the association assesses whether there is any indication that an asset may be impaired. If such an indication exists, an impairment test is carried out on the asset by comparing the recoverable amount of the asset, being the higher of the asset's fair value less costs to sell and value in use, to the asset's carrying amount. Any excess of the asset's carrying amount over its recoverable amount is recognised immediately in profit or loss.

Where it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an individual asset, the association estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs.

(f) Accounts Receivables and Other Debtors

Accounts receivable and other debtors include amounts due from customers and any outstanding grant receipts. Receivables expected to be collected within 12 months of the end of the reporting period are classified as current assets. All other receivables are classified as non-current assets.

Accounts receivable are initially recognised at fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less any provision for impairment. Refer to Note 1(d) for further discussion on the determination of impairment losses.

(g) Employee Benefits

Short-term employee benefits

Provision is made for the association's liability for employee benefits arising from services rendered by employees to the end of the reporting period. Employee benefits expected to be settled within one year together with the benefits arising from wages and salaries, annual leave and sick leave which will be settled after one year, have been measured at the amounts expected to be paid when the liability is settled plus any related on-costs. Other employee benefits payable later than one year have been measured at the present value of the estimated future cash outflows to be made for those benefits. The long service leave provision includes all employees on a probability basis. Contributions are made by the association to an employee superannuation fund and are charged as expenses when incurred.

Other long-term employee benefits

The association classifies employees' long service leave entitlements as other long-term employee benefits as they are not expected to be settled wholly within 12 months after the end of the annual reporting period in which the employees render the related service. Provision is made for the association's obligation for other long-term employee benefits, which are measured at the present value of the expected future payments to be made to employees.

(h) Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the association has a legal or constructive obligation, as a result of past events, for which it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will result and that outflow can be reliably measured. Provisions recognised represent the best estimate of the amounts required to settle the obligation at the end of the reporting period.

(i) Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand, deposits held at call with banks, other short-term highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less, and bank overdrafts. Bank overdrafts are shown within borrowings in current liabilities on the statement of financial position.

(i) Revenue Recognition

The association applied AASB 15: Revenue from Contracts with Customers (AASB 15) and AASB 1058; Income of Not-for-Profit Entities (AASB 1058) using the cumulative effective method of initially applying AASB 15 and AASB 1058 as an adjustment to the opening balance of equity at 1 January 2019.

Operating grants, donations and bequests

When the association received operating grant revenue, donations or bequests, it assesses whether the contract is enforceable and has sufficiently specific performance obligations in accordance with AASB 15.

When both these conditions are satisfied, the association:

- identifies each performance obligation relating to the grant
- recognises a contract liability for its obligations under the agreement recognises revenue as it satisfies its performance obligations.

Where the contract is not enforceable or does not have sufficiently specific performance obligations, the association:

- recognises the asset received in accordance with the recognition requirements of other applicable accounting standards (eg AASB 9. AASB 16, AASB 116 and AASB 138);
- recognises related amounts (being contributions by owners, lease liability, financial instruments, provisions, revenue or contract liability arising from a contract with a customer) and
- recognises income immediately in profit or loss as the difference between the initial carrying amount of the asset and the related amount.

If a contract liability is recognised as a related amount above, the Association recognises income in profit or loss when or as it satisfies its obligations under the contract.

Interest revenue is recognised on a proportional basis taking into account the interest rates applicable to the financial assets.

Revenue from the rendering of a service is recognised upon the delivery of the service to the customers.

All revenue is stated net of the amount of goods and services tax (GST).

(k) Right of Use Asset

The association leases a building for 10 years.

Concessionary lease

During the year ended 31 December 2020, the association entered into a 10-year lease with Port Phillip Council for the exclusive use of 26 Acland Street St Kilda for an art gallery and to conduct art and cultural programs. The association may not use this space for any other purpose during the lease term without prior consent of the Port Phillip Council. The lease payments are $340,000 per annum and Port Phillip Council provides funding for the

The association is dependent on this lease to further its objectives. Without this concessionary lease, it would be unlikely that the association could operate in the area due to high market rates in this area.

Right of use assets	2023 $	2022 $
Leased Building	2,671,305	2,671,305
Accumulated depreciation	(912,692)	(645,562)
Total Right of use asset	1,758,613	2.025,743

(I) Goods and Services Tax (GST)

Revenues, expenses and assets are recognised net of the amount of GST except where the amount of GST incurred is not recoverable from the Australian Taxation Office (ATO).

Receivables and payables are stated inclusive of the amount of GST receivable or payable. The net amount of GST receivable from, or payable to, the ATO is included with other receivables or payables in the statement of financial position.

Cash flows are presented on a gross basis. The GST component of cash flows arising from investing or financing activities which are recoverable from, or payable to the ATO are presented as operating cash flows included in receipts from customers or payments to suppliers.

(m) Critical Accounting Estimates and Judgements

The Committee of Management evaluates estimates and judgements incorporated into the financial statements based on historical knowledge and best available current information. Estimates assume a reasonable expectation of future events and are based on current trends and economic data, obtained both externally and within the association.

Key Judgements

(ii) Performance obligations under AASB 15

To identify a performance obligation under AASB 15, the promise must be sufficiently specific to be able to determine when the obligation is satisfied. Management exercises judgement to determine whether the promise is sufficiently specific by taking into account any conditions specified in the arrangement, explicit or implicit, regarding the promised goods or services. In making this assessment, management includes the nature/ type, cost/ value, quantity and the period of transfer related to the goods or services promised.

(n) New and Amended Accounting Policies Adopted by the association

There have been no new or amended accounting policies adopted by the association with a material or significant effect on the financial statements.

(o) Unexpended grants

The association receives grant monies to fund projects either for contracted periods or time or for specific projects irrespective of the period of time required to complete those projects. It is the policy of the association to treat grant monies as unexpended grants in the statement of financial position where the association is contractually obliged to provide the services in a subsequent financial period to when the grant is received or in the case of specific grants where the project has not been completed.

(p) Events occurring after the balance date

Since the end of the financial year, the continued impacts of the coronavirus (COVID-19) outbreak as a world pandemic have impacted the business operations. The full impact of this outbreak is not yet known on the operations of the association. The Committee of Management has considered the potential impacts of the pandemic on operations and has implemented a number of actions to deal with its impact on the business. The Committee of Management is satisfied that the pandemic will have no impact on the solvency of the business.

No other matters or circumstances have arisen between the end of the financial year, and the date of this report, which have directly significantly affected or may significantly affect the operations of the association, the results of those operations or the state of affairs of the association in future financial years.
